Jo Hill was fifty-two years old last March and was a native of Monroe county. He became identified with the people of Adair county about twenty years ago and during his stay in our midst he engaged in fhe mercantile business, and served one term as sheriff. He was a kind and sympa thetic man, every body was his friend and he was a friend to every body. Mr. Hill was a widower, his wife who was a sister of Messrs. R F. and T. E. Paull, this city, died about sixteen years ago, leaving two sons, Frank and Fred, who make their home in Columbia. To them and all the relatives the News extends its profoundest sympathy.

IN MEMORIAL.

The passing of Mrs. Mary J. Burton, whose death occurred at her late residence, in this city, September 30, 1902, removes the oldest resident of Colum. bia, leaving but two or three older perons in Adair county.

The deceased was born at the old Owens homestead in this place May 28, 1814, and was the oldest child of Col. Wm. Owens, a noted lawyer in his day. She was married to Mr. Joseph Burton May 1, 1834, and with the exception of ten or fifteen years spent in Illinois, her whole life was passed in Columbia and its vicinity. She was the mother of eleven children, five of whom are living-Geo. H. Burton, Longmiers, S. C., S. K. Burton, Mobile, Ala., Mrs. Mary S. Shearer, Mrs. J. N. Page and Miss Ellen Burton, this place.

In 1833 Mrs. Burton connected herself with the Christian Church and lived a consistent member until the lay of her death

Her father was a man in fair circun stances, hence the deceased recieved a liberal education; and she was not slow in storing her mind with general informatiou, making her a very interesting person with whom to converse.

She had convictions and she expresed them—a cultured and high-mine lady, whose memory will daily linger in the minds of the loved ones left behind. She was more than anxious to quit this world and could truly say

I ask not to stay."

THE RAILWAY. It is now an open secret that the Green River is to be taken into the Interurban Railway enterprise. The tive in promoting the road. But he said nothing of this till he could have quite sufficient for all practical purpoes. He has secured land with rights and easements with a view to the estab!ishment of a great water power at the central station on the road above the end of the Park. The Park will lie between this Power Plant and the celebrated Griffin Springs. This has been surveyed and is found to contain about fifty acres. An additional concession to the road has been made by Mrs Jennette Atkinson of a piece of woodland on a high bluff overlooking the Green River and Robinson creek bottoms near a favorite fishing place. Mr. Azbill has ulterior purposes concerning this spot which may yet delight the anglers and bring revenue to the railway. Besides, in this same locality, as he informs us, there is plenty of rock like that in the Columbia court house which will not only meet the needs of the road where bridges will be required, but may be put on the market with great profit. These things ought to encourage faith in the enterprise.

It was announced in last week's iss that the additional subscriptions to the school, to be located here, would be published each week, but not having a report from several solicitors we are unable to do so. One thing certain, after the canvass has ended every contributor will be published whether the proposition loses or wins. The committee is doing faithful work and be it known to the friends of this enterprise that we have no time to lose and that we must yet secure about $2,000 in this county. The importance and worth of such an institution is far reaching to this county and this section of the State, and if the people fail to grasp it a tremendous error, likewise costly, will result. Make up your mind to give and give liberally and nelp secure the school.

Mr. John L. Wheat, of Louisville, writing to a representative of this paper says: "Since Conference, on our way home and until now, I have heard many expressions from those in attendance, and all agree in their praise of the cordial and liberal hospitality of couple, in company with Mr. W. H. the people of your good town. As for myself, I must repeat what I have said so many times: I never met with a people more to my mind nor with a reception and bospitality more gratifying. I enclose 25 cents for which send me the News for the few weeks it pays, that I may be more fully informed as to the progress of the new Columbia Training School, in the success of which I feel a deep and abiding

The proposition to locate the School in Columbia has not yet been secured on the part of the Columbia District The educational Board requires $8,000 from the District and conservative estimates show that the people of this countywill have to put up $7,000 of this und. The committee has already secured about $5,000, or a little over, but it has also exhausted its prospects for the largest subscriptions. Beyond a doubt several good subscriptions will be received from several parties in to expect the rest from the people in the county. Eld. W. K. Azbill was out all last week in the interest of the electric ine between Columbia and Campbellsville. He states that the route is very practical and at no place will the grade be more than eighty feet to the mile. Mr. Azbill is meeting with encourage ent from many different sources, and the people along the line are very much enthused. The people of Co-lumbia have perfect confidence in Mr. Azbill's ability and influence to carry the project to a successful termination

Mr. William Butler, who lives on the Campbellsville pike, two miles from Columbia, was very happily surprised last Friday. It was his 66th birthday, and while he was out on the farm his wife and daughters prepared a birth-day dinner and invited in the neighbors. About sixty persons came in, and Mrs. L.C. Hurt, of this place, states that a more magnificent dinner could not have been prepared.

Eld. W. K. Azbill delivered two very interesting sermons at the Presbyter-ian church last Sunday forenoon and evening. Large congregations were out, showing that the speaker is highly appreciated as a minister in this unity.
